BUT A DISASTER (BEFORE THE DISASTER) LIES IN THE SOIL BELOW THE FURY OF THE STORM.

Neighborhoods in Orleans Parish

MAPPED AND MEASURED BY SCIENCE, A MALEVOLENT PRESENCE IS EVIDENT . . .

A microscopic view of numerous red blood cells (erythrocytes) against a dark background. The cells are biconcave discs, appearing as reddish-orange rings or discs with a darker center. They are scattered across the frame, with some overlapping. The lighting highlights the edges and the central depression of the cells.
